

What types of support does the safety community provide?

You can get assistance on just about any type of safety issue you can imagine, from typical “fire safety” to the more obscure “aviation safety.” The safety umbrella encompasses the environment, health, wellness, and a host of other issues. If it’s out there, the REE safety community probably has an expert on the subject. Examples of support include-

- Accident Prevention
- Biological Safety
- Compliance Reviews
- Emergency Response
- Employee Assistance
- Environmental Management
- Fire Prevention
- Hazard Abatement
- Hazardous Waste
- Industrial Hygiene
- Occupational Health Maintenance
- Occupational Medical Surveillance
- Personal Protective Equipment
- Pollution Prevention
- Radiation Safety
- Regulatory Compliance
- Training
- Workers’ Compensation

.....as well as many others.....

As a handy reminder, jot down the names and numbers of the key safety personnel at your location and keep this document by your phone.

Whom do I contact when I have a safety question?

First, contact your agency or location safety representative listed below. This is your primary contact within the REE safety community. If they can't answer your question, speak to them about consulting someone on the next page who can.

Within CSREES, ERS, NAL or NASS your safety representative is -

- CSREES Dennis Kopp
(202) 690-0745
Fax: (202) 720-8987
- ERS Leslee Lowstuter
(202) 694-5111
Fax: (202) 694-5641
- NAL Gary McCone
